

Ancient Civilizations

(Mesopotamian, Egyptian, Indus and Chinese)

Egyptian Civilization:

The river Nile played a vital role in the establishment of the ancient civilization. The most important thing the Nile provided to the Ancient Egyptians was fertile land. Nile is one of the longest rivers in the world, about 6650 km (4130 miles) long.

- i) Name the countries where the river Nile flows through?
Egypt, Sudan, Kenya, Ethiopia, Tanzania, Burundi and Uganda
- ii) Which sea is near the Egypt?
Mediterranean sea is near the Egypt.
- iii) Write the names of important crops of Egyptian civilization.
The important crops are wheat, flax and papyrus.
- iv) What is the length of river Nile in km.
The length of river Nile is about 6650 Km.

Project:

Collect the pictures of pharaohs and paste them on chart paper also write their names.